JUNIOR VOLS HAVE SUCCESSFUL FOOTBALL SEASON

Percentage Not Impressive Yet Team Has Played Fine Brand Of Football

The Junior Vols under the leadership of Coach Kirk Grantham played a very successful season for 1929 to a large extent. While the percentage of gains, yardage and touchdowns are not as high as last year's, the team has played a fine brand of football. The team has played a fine brand of football.

When the first game was played on September 14th, the team was defeated by the senior team. The team has played a fine brand of football.

The Junior Vols were down in their first game in October. The team has played a fine brand of football.

FOOTBALL MAY BE PLAYED AT NIGHT

Plans Being Considered by U. T. J. C. Athletic Association for Night Games on Local Field

Football may be played at night next fall according to Coach Kirk Grantham, head mentor of the Junior Vols. According to the coach, the Athletic Association has under consideration plans for financing the lighting of the athletic field for the night games.

Those who have witnessed night games say that visibility is as good on the field for both players and spectators as it is during daylight hours. Many local followers of football here and in the surrounding territory are enthusiastic over the prospect of night games, due to the fact that they are unable to attend games played during the busmess hours of the day.

It plans can be worked out where by the project can be financed a schedule will be arranged for 1930 which will bring several strong conference teams to Martin throughout October, while the weather is mild and pleasant at night.

Coach Grantham stated that athletic equipment of this sort is not financed from state funds, and that other sources would have to be found for raising the money required. Fargason Field in Memphis is the only other gridiron equipped in Tennessee for night games, so far as is known.

BASKETBALL SEASON SOON TO BEGIN AT U.T.J.C.

Schedule Being Completed Embraces Eight Home And Twelve Games Abroad

Football passed out of the picture on Thanksgiving Day, and is soon to be replaced, in interest and activity of Junior College fans, by the indoor sport of basketball. Coach Grantham is busy trying to arrange the schedule for the season which begins on Wednesday, December 11th, when the first call for practice went out. The tentative schedule calls for 8 games on the home court and twelve on foreign floors. Negotiations are on for games with Caruthersville Junior College and Jonesboro A. and M., both of which would be played on the same trip. Another trip is being planned which will carry the squad over into Middle Tennessee for skirmishes with the Middle Tennessee Teachers at Murfreesboro, Cumberland University at Lebanon and Austin Peay Normal at Clarksville, Lam beth, Murray Teachers, and West Tennessee Teachers are certain to be on the playing schedule and the dates will be worked out at the meeting of the Conference at Jackson on December 13 and 14.

Prichett and Aycock are the only two letter men remaining from last year. These two were very dependable men on last year's quintet. However, it is expected that some good material will be discovered within such men as Webb, Amentrout, Taylor, Pybas, Lemond, Hastings, Ricketts, Roberts, Brann, Hicks and Stoll answer the call of Coach Grantham for tryouts.

Harold Forsythe will be the student manager for this season.

JUNIOR COLLEGE FRESHMEN DEFEAT WOODLAND MILLS

Football Game With High School Team Results in 19-0 Score For College Freshmen

A furious, driving, running attack carried the Freshmen to a 19-0 victory over the strong Woodland Mills eleven. Our freshmen were led by the smashing gains of Cathell Brann, halfback. Brann was constantly breaking through behind a hard charging line which tore big gaps in the high school line. "Bo" Beard, "Red" Hastings, and "Pinkey" Roberts also gave a fine exhibition on both the defense and offense. These backs, of course could never have reached open field but for the blocking of the line. The line men also stood out led by Carter, Alpin and Ricketts.

Late in the first period the Woodland team opened up an aerial attack from deep in their own territory. The first pass attempted was knocked down by the secondary, and the second was intercepted by Ricketts playing a "wide awake" game at every center. On this touchdown game, "Applegate" shook off three tacklers.

Finch: "That is a relatively stable spatial configuration of stimuli which has reflected ether waves, which set up electrical currents which cause the ciliary muscles to make an adjustment of the pupil of the ocular organs, such that its image is cast on the retina, in such proportion that it is transmitted by the optic nerve, which in turn transmits it to the occipital lobe of the cortex of the cerebrum which tells us that the (pointing to radiator) relatively stable spatial configuration of stimuli is a radiator."

 Miss Hunt, when the lights went out.
 Horace Lashlee after the Tennessee Vandy game.
 Henry Head.
 Sublett, when he made that ONE condition.
 McBride, after he had seen Mr. Cravens.
 Enochs, when his bed caught fire.
 Mr. Colebank, when his steers broke out.
 All students at final EXAMS.
 Stevedore R. Woods, Jr., when he gazes upon his pride—the flag—with twisted cable.
 Ethel Bond, when "Doe-belly" went home.
 Florence Elliott when Prichett was locked up in the Dorm.

DORMITORY GOSSIP

Hello there, Taliatha!
 How is Forsythe getting along?
 Are you still in touch with Howell?
 The one with the new sweat shirt on.
 When have you seen Forsythe?
 Sorry he had a touch of the flu.
 Hope while you were visiting him.
 He didn't give it to you.
 Someone told me that Fat
 Was suffering beyond question
 Said he swallowed a chess board,
 And took the indigestion.
 But Lois told them she thought different.
 They must have been in a hurry.
 To lay it on the poor chess board.
 She guessed it happened to be Thanksgiving Turkey.
 Yes, we had heard that Jane
 Had the tonsillitis
 And Charlie was operated on
 For a severe case of appendicitis.
 What? You say that Ethel
 Is moving at last
 And Dough is packing up
 To do some traveling in the East.
 Yes, Little U. T. is fine and dandy.
 So now we'll go back home.
 Big U. T. is going to call us
 To talk over their new phone.

—Polly Harper.

KRAZY KRACKS

NOBODY

I'm nobody! Who are you?

Are you nobody, too?

Then there's a pair of us, don't tell!

They'd banish us, you know.

How dreary to be somebody!

How public-like a frog

To tell your name the live-long day

To an admiring hog!

HAIL TO THE POOR GOAT

By PUDDEN HEFLEY

Just when you think you've one moment at ease

Up pops somebody, "Get down on your knees.

Polish my shoes and pull up my socks."

And you have to obey when you'd rather throw rocks.

Such is the life of a goat!

Were you ever forced to make a fool of yourself,

Which is good for neither the mind nor the health?

Did you ever make a paddle, but not for rowing?

If you have, then you've a good way of knowing

That such is the life of a goat!

But come on goats for we should worry;

We'll make next year's goats "awfully" sorry,

Goats! Just wait and see what we do to you!

We'll show them what they have to do.

Such is the life of a goat!

CONDITIONS

If one to love your letter come,
 The paradise within my heart
 I would surrender to that flame,
 And unlamenting would depart.

Till then undaunted I'll embrace
 My fortune, asking no man's leave,
 And pledge you in the market-place
 And wear your favor on my sleeve.

Pleasant? Yes, and dainty; but after all it is only WHIP CREAM.

LETTER FROM THE WEAKLEY COUNTY CLUB AT BIG U. T.

Dear folks:

Bernice Stone, of Union City, a former "Little U. T." student who has been in the hospital for quite a while since an appendicitis operation, has recovered enough to attend classes again, though she couldn't qualify for the track team yet.

Our whole student body, as well as the town in general and even the staid members of the faculty, are rejoicing over the news that Tennessee's coach, Major Bob Neyland, will be with us again for four more years. His time has expired according to Army regulations (he's the commandant of the R. O. T. C. as well as being the coach) and he was slated to move on this summer. However, his new army post will be located at Cuattanooga, according to a recent announcement from the War Department, and he can come up to Tennessee every fall for the next four years to direct the football boys.

At every game this fall, the students have yelled, "Keep Neyland", and every issue of the Orange and White (our student weekly paper) has blazoned the same slogan to the campus world.

Lucille Freeman of Weakley County has been ill in the University Infirmary for the past few days, but is recovering we are glad to say.

Quite a number of students went home for Thanksgiving and a large crowd attended the Tennessee-Kentucky game at Lexington. Of course, our hopes for a Southern championship were shattered by the Kentucky Wildcats (who lived up to their name in every respect), but even a team like the Vols can't win all the time and the way our boys refused to be defeated and smashed over a touchdown in the last few minutes is something to be proud of. Buddy Hackman, the blonde member of the famous firm of "Hack and Mack", the touchdown Twins" made our tying score, which meant a lot to him as it kept his seven year record of not playing on a losing team from being marred.

Examination schedules for the first quarter finals have been posted. And you should see the Weakley County gang gathered round the bulletin board inspecting that schedule and trying to figure out how we can change sections and get through early so as to go home the first possible minute afterwards. You may expect us to come rolling in any time after the fifteenth of December.

The "profs" have started a "term paper" craze now and we will all suffer until exam week begins. Seats in the library are scarcer than hen's teeth.

The Weatherman is so "sunk" over the outcome of the Vols game with Kentucky that he has been dishing out the worst brand in his sack. And if you don't know what cold weather is just come up and walk around this campus with the mercury hitting on 25 degrees.

games during the season has been much larger than ever before and many fans have been heard to comment that they have never seen more jam-up, thrill provoking football than that played in the Teachers' game on October 18, and the Armistice Day game with the Lambuth Eagles.

The games played this season, with the scores, follows:

Opening game, October 4—Caruthersville Junior College, at Martin. Won 7-0.

October 12—Will-Mayfield College, at Marble Hill, Mo. Won 6-0.

October 18—West Tennessee Teachers, at Martin. Lost 13-2.

October 26—Delta State Teachers, at Cleveland, Miss. Lost 27-0.

November 1—Jonesboro College, at Jonesboro, Ark. Won 27-6.

November 11—Lambuth College, at Martin. Lost 8-6.

November 16—Bethel College at Martin. Won 14-0.

November 28—Murray State Teachers at Martin. Lost 13-7.

FACULTY "WHO'S WHO"

In the fall of 1916 he took his first real job, as superintendent of city schools at Butler, in East Tennessee. There he enlisted in the World War, in which he served two years. After the war he went to Harvard University to work off his Masters degree, but was unable to finish his work there due to a nervous breakdown. The next four years of his life were spent in the West, promoting young peoples' work in Christian Endeavor Associations, until he was called home by the death of his father and brother. While at home he was elected superintendent of Grainger County schools, and in the fall of the same year superintendent of city schools at Jellico, Tennessee. He resigned from the latter position in order to complete his Masters degree, which he did at the University of Tennessee. In 1928-29 he did work on his Doctors degree at Stanford University in California, which he has completed with the exception of about three month's work. At the present time Mr. Phillips is Associate Professor of Psychology and Education, at the University of Tennessee Junior College at Martin.

Mr. Phillips is a member of Phi Delta Kappa scholarship fraternity. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, Shriner, a Baptist, and Independent in politics.

Mr. Phillips is married and has one child, a son, who bears his own given name.

PROF. CLAXTON AND MISS CARL VISIT KNOXVILLE

Will Attend To Junior College Business at Big U. T.—Return Wednesday

Director C. Porter Claxton and Miss Beulah Carl, head of the Home Economics department of the University of Tennessee Junior College, left Martin by auto Saturday morning for the main University at Knoxville. Miss Carl, added to the Junior branch of the University recently, will inspect the Home Economics department at Knoxville. Director Claxton will attend to Junior College business in meetings with department heads of the University. They will return here on Wednesday.

SNOWSTORM AS DESCRIBED BY OUR PROFESSORS

background. The snow also offered an excellent opportunity for all those who enjoy the fine art of hurling snowballs at innocent pedestrians and shivering in the cold.

Each and every member of the Psychology class joins in the hope that Dr. Phillips' otolith organs and semicircular canals stood him in good stead and that he was able to maintain a state of equilibrium while going down his ice-covered steps. At any rate, he shows no signs of any mishap and seems to be able to sit down comfortably.

The packing and freezing of snow resulted in fun for some and tragedy for others. Many accidents occurred in which cars scintillated about violently and finally stopped at the bottom of the nearest ditch. It simply will not do to apply brakes suddenly on an ice-covered pavement. Moral: When driving on ice, refrain from violent application of brakes, unless you want to make a sled out of your car.

Last of all, the various sleigh-rides should be mentioned. The most extensive sleigh-riding was done by a certain auburn HEAD-ed boy, who persisted in dashing over the snow accompanied by a certain young actress in the cast of "Adam and Eva."

Note: Druggists report large increases in the sale of Smit. Cough Drops and Vick's Salve.

THREE A CLUB ENTERTAINS THE STUDENT BODY

Refreshments, Dancing, and Games
Offered Amusement for Students
And Friends

The Three A boys entertained the student body with a well planned party Thursday night, December 5th at the Home Economics building.

The Nursery School room was arranged for dancing with the Southern Rhythm Boys furnishing the music. Those who did not care for dancing were invited into the Art and Crafts' room where tables were arranged for bridge and other games.

It is needless for us to say that everyone enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent, because, if those who were there had glanced over the crowd they could have detected that from everyone's face.

We, the student body, as well as the faculty, wish to thank the Three A Club for the wonderful time they showed us.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT AC- QUIRES HUSKER

Wonderful Labor-Saving Device For College Farm

C. C. Cravens, head of the Agriculture Department of the University of Tennessee Junior College, announced last week the acquisition by this department of a valuable corn shredder. The shredder is one of the latest models as evidenced by the fact that it takes dry corn in bundles, tears up the stalks and fodder, shucks the corn, puts the shucked ears in the wagon, delivers shattered corn into sacks and blows the shreds into the barn loft. It may be operated by a small twenty horse-power tractor, and it is valued at $700.00. While it is listed as a loan by the manufacturers, the Rosenthal Corn Husker Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., Prof. Cravens says it is a rare case for such loans to be called in.

U. T. FRESHMEN DEFEAT WOOD- LAND MILLS

The half ended with the score standing 6-0. Our freshmen boys had not found the road strown with roses this half. The boys from the Mills country displayed plenty of punch and defence, and threatened a time or so. A lucky break had put us ahead. The second half was a different story. Our frosh eleven came back for the last half, fresh from a conference with Coach Grantham and ready to go. They went!

The second half was a constant Freshman threat—two touchdowns being pushed over; one on a pass from Hastings to Lemond, the other Brann smashed left tackle. A pass Hastings to Lemond also scored an extra point. Jack Lemond and John at an Elliott at ends also played a nice game. The Woodland Mills team showed a real scrapping high school bunch led by Captain Marshall.

Extra Point—Pass: Hastings to Lemond.

SHORT COURSE IN HOME MAKING AT U. T. J. C.

Many Ladies From Martin and Adjacent Sections Hear Interesting Lectures on Practical Subjects

A short course for women of the town was given on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week. Mrs. J. T. Ellis, County Home Demonstration Agent, was in charge.

On Wednesday there were about one hundred people here, including six high school teachers and their classes. Mrs. Baber had charge of the devotional services and Mrs. Scruggs led the singing. Short talks were made by Mr. Claxton and Miss Montrose. Miss Carl then gave a talk on "Lines and Color in Dress."

The afternoon program began at one o'clock, and Miss McFee gave a very interesting talk on, "Children's Toys". Then Mrs. Warner, of Knoxville, talked about "Tennessee and Its Resources". These were followed by an interesting talk given by Miss Margaret Ambrose of Knoxville.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. Montgomery, of Dresden, demonstrated cake decorating, and Mrs. Blake demonstrated candy making. In the afternoon, the women attended the football game.

On Friday, Mrs. Warner gave another good talk on "Our Bodies and Their Care". Mrs. Demons talked on "Bed Making".

At one o'clock the ladies planned and prepared their menu for the afternoon. The menu consisted of:

Cream of Tomato Soup
Crackers
Scrambled Eggs
Pineapple and Cottage Cheese Salad
Drop Biscuits
Cocoa
Boiled Custard

Miss Hunt talked on, "Table Etiquette and Table Service". The women of the town enjoyed this course very much and certainly feel that it was a great help to them.

INTERESTING BOOKS ADDED TO COLLEGE LIBRARY

Western Front", and Earnest Hemingway's "A Farewell to Arms". The first is a brutally frank view of war experiences with the A. E. F.; it is a story of an artistic, sensitive temperament in revolt against the tyranny of war. "All Quiet on the Western Front" is apparently the auto biographical story of a young German private, who with three of his classmates, is snatched away from school at the age of nineteen to serve in the trenches. At the close of the war, Paul is the only survivor, but it is his flesh only that has survived—his spirit is destroyed. "A Farewell to Arms", the narrative of the love of two people, Lieutenant Henry, serving with the Ambulance Corps on the Italian front, and Catherine Barkley, an English nurse, is an unforgettable account of the twisting effect of war on two natures.

Besides the three war novels listed above, the Library also has, as recent additions, the most authoritative and impartial survey of war origins that has appeared to date, namely, Sidney Bradshaw Fay's, "Origins of the World War". The author spent more than eight years in the preparation of this exhaustive treatise and his book is considered by reliable critics as the best single work on the subject in any language. Emil Ludwig's brilliant new book, also among the new books, "July 14", is an honest study of the question as to the responsibility of the World War; he blames the statesmen and military leaders in power at the Capitols of Europe in the order named: Vienna, Petrograd, Berlin, Paris, and London. This astounding, well-documented expose of the diplomats' betrayal of Europe made its first appearance on November 11 of this year.

THE SUNNY SIDE

Judge—"Why did you assault this man?"
